School Report.

It again becomes our duty, in compliance with law, to present the citizens of the town with a report of the school work for the year just completed, the results of which, if they have been in some few instances disappointing to parents, as they have been to your committee, have, nevertheless, we feel assured, averaged well with previous years, and in some instances have been unusually pleasing alike to parents and School Board.

As will appear by reference to the accompanying statistical tables, each school, 8 in all, with the exception of No. 6, has been in session thirty-one weeks during the year. The winter term at No. 6 proving unsatisfactory, was closed a week earlier than originally intended, hence the school will be entitled to an extra week the coming school year. Nos. 1, 8 and 11 schools have been consolidated with Nos. 2 and 4, thus saving the expense of three schools—less the cost of conveyance of the pupils of No. 1 and No. 11. In this connection we wish to bear grateful testimony to the cheerful co-operation which, in the main, has been extended to your Board in its efforts to promote the general interests of the schools, by the residents of the consolidated districts. We are pleased to note a decided change in this respect, as compared with the past, due largely, we think, to a better understanding and appreciation of the town system and its operations and results.

The principal items of repairs during the past year have been the shingling of the buildings at Nos. 5 and 9. Other lesser repairs have been made on most of the other buildings, and others are needed in the near future, including white-washing. No. 2 should also have a better black-board surface. A balance of the appropriation for repairs will remain unexpended, but a small appropriation seems necessary for the coming year, rather than use any portion of the school money for the annually needed repairs.

Two years ago your board was instructed by a vote of the town to collect tuition for scholars attending our schools from adjoining towns. In compliance, we have presented a bill to Amherst school district for 1893 and 1894, which, however, has not as yet been honored.

No change of text books has been made during the year, though we have introduced Raub's New Normal Reader as supplementary reading, and we recommend the adoption of Potter's Geography in place of Harper's, to which it seems decidedly preferable.

Teachers have been retained for the full school year in Nos. 7, 9 and 12 schools, and we believe much to the pupils' benefit. The changes in the other schools seemed necessary, but in one or more instances proved decidedly harmful, thus confirming what we have said in previous reports of the danger incurred in frequent changes of teachers, unless the one to be changed is unsatisfactory. In one instance during the past year we were compelled to give up a teacher, than whom, in general efficiency, we have had none more gifted, and very few are her peers. Her successor, though unusually well recommended, and whose scholarship was fully up to the required standard, was a most decided failure in the school room, in the estimation of your Board and the parents. Why men of education, and prominence in public life, will bestow such certificates of efficiency as teachers, upon persons so poorly equipped for their work, is a mystery; for they thus become instruments of mischief to the school interests, and bring discredit upon themselves.

The number of visits among the schools by the School Board during the year is 108. We also give a list of visits by parents and friends to the different schools as follows:—

No. 2— 26	No. 6—34
“ 3—160	“ 7—51
“ 4— 49	“ 9—39
“ 5— 28	“ 12—16

Total—403

For the district as a whole this is a fair showing, but indicates a neglect in portions of the town which reflects little credit.

Though the town system is receiving unstinted condemnation from some who subscribe themselves “Old Teachers,” and others, we feel assured that it is doing decidedly better work than was accomplished under the old district system, and with the improvements in its application of which it is doubtless susceptible, it may achieve results even more satisfactory. But, granting the truth that, as thus far administered, it has shown imperfections, there is still much to commend it in the fact that, though the children in our city schools enjoy advantages so much superior in many respects to those in the country, the country pupil is frequently found to be in advance of the supposed-to-be more fortunate city pupil of the same age; conclusive evidence of which has been brought to our personal observation, and is attested by teachers who have taught in both city and country schools.

We would be pleased to see added to the course of study in our schools that of vocal music ; but at present there are obstacles in the way of its general introduction which seem insurmountable, though in some of our schools there have been frequent if not regular exercises in music, which added greatly to the attractiveness of the school.

We gladly record the fact that our schools are now all provided with a school-house flag, to the honor, be it said, not only of the pupils and teachers, but also of the parents and friends who evidenced their public spirit, and we trust in some measure their patriotism by contributing to the flag fund. Among the influences which tend to inspire and foster a love of country, certainly the American flag as an object lesson is not to be classed as one of the least—and we all, old and middle aged as well as the young—need its influence, for these are days in which true loyalty to our country is being severely tested, and it is not pessimism which prompts us to say that the principles of free government and the right of liberty of conscience are menaced by many dangers. Then let our town and all others, as integral parts of the Republic, unite its best efforts to conserve harmony ; keep in touch with the best educational thought of the day ; secure the best teaching talent possible by liberal compensation ; thus aiding in the work of improving and strengthening the Public School System—the bulwark of our liberties, social, political, and religious.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY A. HARRIS,	} School Board.
